About Founder

Abdul Hakim Hameedi, the visionary founder of PharmaOne, boasts extensive experience in shaping Afghanistan's pharmaceutical landscape. His entrepreneurial journey commenced in 2006 with the establishment of Hameed Pharma Distribution Company, emphasizing the import and distribution of medicines with an unwavering commitment to quality and accessibility. Collaborating with esteemed companies such as Getz Pharma, Abbott Pharma, Pfizer Pharma, and others, he laid a solid foundation for pharmaceutical distribution.

In 2012, he pioneered PharmaOne Distribution Company, importing medicines from global companies and collaborating with a diverse range of pharmaceutical entities. In 2018, Abdul Hakim founded Oxsus Life Distribution Company, recognizing the evolving healthcare landscape, significantly contributing to the availability of life-saving medications and expanding the range of pharmaceuticals through strategic partnerships.

Serving as the president of the Afghanistan Medicine and Healthcare Union from 2020 to 2022, he exhibited leadership and dedication to the advancement of the healthcare sector. Continuing his dedication to the healthcare sector, Abdul Hakim has now extended his vision with the latest endeavor, PharmaOne Manufacturing Company. This venture reflects his commitment to providing reliable, high-quality medical supplies and enhancing healthcare accessibility in Afghanistan, with a forward-looking vision to produce medicines locally for the benefit of the people.

PharmaOne Group Of Companies

Pharma One International Ltd is the flagship entity within the Pharma One Group of Companies, a diverse portfolio of businesses dedicated to various sectors:

Establishing PharmaOne International Distribution Company in 2012, Abdul Hakim initiated a groundbreaking venture importing pharmaceuticals from esteemed global companies like Pharmevo Pharma, Focus & Rulz Pharma, Bharat Pharma, Titlis Pharma, OBS Pharma, among others. Today, the company continues its evolution under his visionary leadership, engaging in fruitful collaborations with prominent entities such as Genetics Pharma, Shaigan Pharma, High-Q Pharma, Herbion Pharma, Next Pharma, Horizon Pharma, Wilshire Pharma, Pharmahealth Pharma, Aspin Pharma, Univet Pharma, and more. This journey stands as a testament to Abdul Hakim's commitment to excellence in the pharmaceutical landscape, shaping PharmaOne into a thriving force in the industry.

Hameed Tower: Located in 1st Street Shah shaheed, Kabul, Afghanistan, Hameed Tower spans an area of 1200 square kilometers. Supply Chain Management

PharmaOne International Ltd is committed to delivering high-quality products across Afghanistan through a meticulously managed supply chain. Our strategy is designed to ensure efficiency, reliability, and responsiveness:

Inventory Management: We strategically maintain a 3-month extra inventory to manage fluctuations in demand and minimize the risk of stockouts. This proactive approach ensures we can meet customer needs even during unexpected demand spikes.

Transit Stock: We keep one order worth of stock in transit at all times. This helps in maintaining a steady flow of products and minimizes lead times, ensuring that our supply chain remains uninterrupted.

Demand Orders: Monthly demand orders are collected from all provincial branches to accurately forecast and plan for inventory needs. Upon receiving new stock, we process and prepare all provincial branch orders within one day, ensuring swift and efficient fulfillment.

Branch Network: Our operations are supported by a network of branches across all 34 provinces of Afghanistan. This extensive network enables localized distribution and supports timely delivery to remote areas.

Daily Supply: We handle daily supply orders with a maximum delivery time of 12 hours. Our commitment to prompt delivery ensures that customers receive their products quickly, enhancing overall service satisfaction.

Transport Fleet: We operate a dedicated transport fleet tailored to each area, which facilitates rapid and reliable delivery. This ensures that products reach their destinations on time, regardless of location.

Supply Chain Management

Real-Time Tracking: Our supply chain includes real-time tracking systems to monitor inventory levels, shipments, and delivery status. This transparency allows for better coordination and timely adjustments if needed.

Supplier Relationships: We maintain strong relationships with our international and local suppliers, ensuring the consistent quality of products and efficient replenishment of stock.

Risk Management: Our supply chain is designed with risk management in mind, including contingency plans for disruptions such as transport delays or supply shortages. This proactive approach helps in mitigating potential issues and maintaining operational continuity.

Quality Control: Regular audits and inspections are conducted to ensure that all products meet stringent quality standards before reaching our branches and customers. This commitment to quality is a cornerstone of our operations.

Our comprehensive supply chain management, supported by our transport fleet, real-time tracking, and proactive risk management, underscores PharmaOne International Ltd's commitment to delivering high-quality products efficiently and reliably across Afghanistan.

Development

PharmaOne International Ltd is dedicated to continuous development and advancement across all facets of our operations. Our focus on development encompasses several key areas:

Facility Expansion: Our Mega Project in Kabul represents a significant commitment to growth, featuring a state-of-the-art facility designed for current and future needs. With a modern factory building and plans for additional floors, we are well-equipped to expand our production capabilities and meet increasing demand.

Warehouse & Inventory Keeping

1. Warehouse Standards:

- Compliance: Pharmaone adheres to the guidelines set by the Afghanistan Food and Drug Authority (AFDA) for warehouse standards.
- Space Management: The warehouse is adequately sized to accommodate the inventory while ensuring efficient storage and management.

2. Storage Practices:

- Elevation from Floor: To prevent contamination and damage, inventory is kept elevated from the warehouse floor by placing cartons on tables or pallets.
- Temperature Control: We maintain optimal warehouse conditions by installing exhaust fans and climate control systems in various areas to regulate temperature and humidity.

3. Temperature-Sensitive Products:

- Cold Storage: Products requiring a controlled cold temperature, including certain medications and injections, are stored in dedicated refrigeration units to maintain their efficacy.

4. Documentation:

Maintain accurate and up-to-date records of all inventory transactions, including receipts, shipments, and sales.

5. Inventory Control

- Stock Management: Implement a robust inventory management system to track stock levels, expiration dates, and batch numbers.
- FIFO Method: Utilize the First-In, First-Out (FIFO) method to ensure that older stock is used before newer stock to reduce the risk of expired products.
- Reorder Points: Establish reorder points and safety stock levels to prevent stock outs and ensure a continuous supply.

6. Inventory Categorization:

- Batch-wise Organization: Inventory is organized by batch number. Older batches are positioned at the front for easy access, while newer batches are placed towards the back. This ensures that products are used in the order they were received.
- Product-wise Organization: Products are arranged based on their sales volume. High-selling items are placed at the front for quick access, while low-selling items are stored further back to optimize space and efficiency.

Monitoring & Evaluation:

Accounting Procedures at Pharmaone

Pharmaone's accounting practices are designed to ensure meticulous financial management, accuracy, and transparency. These procedures collectively uphold the company's financial integrity and support effective oversight.

Tracking Customer Accounts

Pharmaone ensures accurate and up-to-date tracking of customer accounts through a series of systematic procedures. Orders and receipts are promptly entered into the accounting system each day, with real-time updates to maintain precise customer account balances. At the end of each business day, the accounting team cross-verifies recorded orders with receipts, addressing any discrepancies through investigation and correction. Documentation is securely stored and regularly backed up, with a complete audit trail maintained for accountability. Monthly reviews involve verifying customer accounts for accuracy, generating statements for customer confirmation, and resolving any reported discrepancies.

Monitoring & Evaluation:

Reconciliation of Business Partners' Account Ledgers

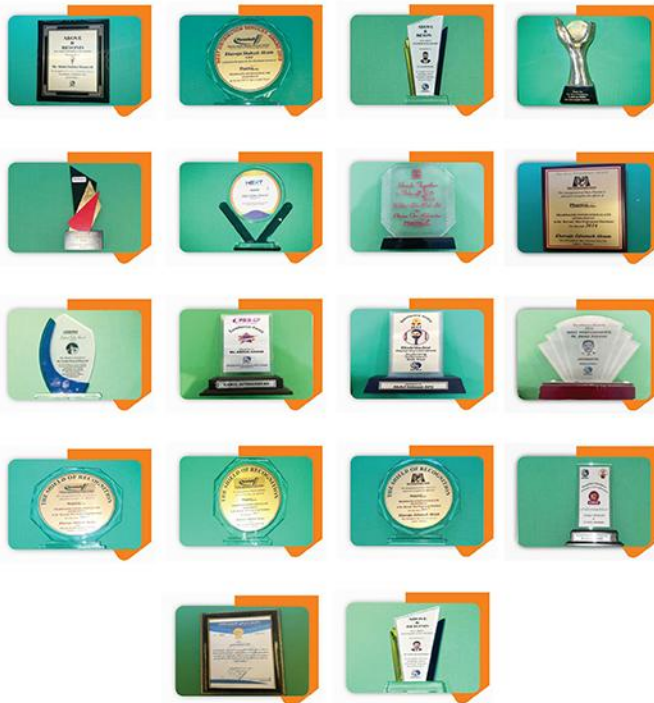

To maintain accurate records with business partners, Pharmaone performs monthly reconciliations of ledgers. This process involves comparing the company's records with those of its partners, ensuring that transactions match in terms of amounts, dates, and details. Discrepancies are investigated, and adjustment entries are made as necessary to align the records. Secondary verification by a different team member ensures accuracy, and reconciliation reports are reviewed by senior management. All supporting documents related to the reconciliation process are collected and stored, and an audit trail is maintained to document the process and actions taken.

Annual Audit

Pharmaone conducts a thorough annual audit to review all financial transactions from the past year, ensuring accuracy and compliance with accounting standards. Expert auditors are selected to perform a detailed review, which includes testing transactions, verifying account balances, and assessing internal controls. The audit report, outlining findings and recommendations, is reviewed by senior management and the board of directors. Follow-up actions are implemented based on the audit recommendations to address any issues identified, and ongoing monitoring ensures continued accuracy and compliance with financial processes. Through this comprehensive approach, Pharmaone upholds financial integrity and transparency.
